MILLER-RUSHFELDT

Rushtell, of Heinsburg, Alberta and Gerald E. Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Miller of Magrath. The ceremony was performed in the presence of a number of relatives and close friends.

Her bridesmaid was Miss Doris Coomb in suit of pale green with white hat and veil and white carnation corsage. The bride entered on the arm of Dr. Douglas McPherson of Magrath. PLATT-BRADSHAW

A profusion of mixed spring blossoms formed the afternoon setting of the two o'clock ceremony conducted by Rev. A. E. Edworthy at Knox United Church, Drumheller, Saturday May 15th, when Nancy Louise, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bradshaw, of Rosedale, Alberta, pledged nuptial vows with Virgil Jerome Platt, son of Mr. Thomas Platt of Cardston, Alberta.

lily-pointe sleeves. White dories held her floor-length veil in place and she carried a white prayer book covered with red roses and from which cascaded white streamers tied with lovers' knots holding tiny roses.

The Misses Lois and Phyllis Bradshaw attended their sister as maid of honor and bridesmaid respectively. Lois choosing a slipper-length gown of blue taffeta and net while Phyllis wore a full length gown of pink lace and net. Both attendants carried arm bouquets of carnations and tulips. Miss Patricia Oliphant as the diminutive flower girl, wore a toe-length dress of yellow taffeta and carried a ribboned basket of sweet peas.

Darrell Bradshaw, brother of the bride, acted as best man, while Frank Peterson and Howard Palmer ushered the guests to pews marked with white satin bows. During the signing of the register, Miss Ruth Simpson sang "I Love You Truly."

A reception for 50 guests was held at the bride's home in Rosedale when the bride's mother received with the bridal party. Mrs. Bradshaw chose a floral jersey daytime model featuring draped skirt, white straw hat, accessories to tone, and complemented with a corsage of pink roses pinned at her shoulder.

Bouquets of spring flowers were used throughout the rooms and were also arranged on the brides table which was centred with a three tiered wedding cake embedded in tulle and flanked with pink and white tapers. A pink and white streamer arrangement came from the corners of the room to the centre.

Mrs. Wilda Allen and Mrs. Pullar both of Calgary presided at the tea urns. Serviteurs included Mrs. Sigrid Bradshaw, Miss Betty Noah, Miss Mary MacPhee, Mrs. Doreen Ramsay and Mrs. Eileen Mitchell.

WASTE—TIME WORK

Men are still fighting machines believing in the face of all the evidence that there is only so much work to go around. But there are indications of a growing impatience with such misconception. In the present negotiations in the United States, between the publishers and the International Typographical Union there is a suggestion that one of the most hoary of these customs might have to go by the board. Forty years ago, in an effort to speed the delivery of newspapers, publishers agreed to what was known as the "bogus rule". This rule provided that newspapers could accept plates or make from another paper to enable the papers to combine their efforts in the interests of greater speed. But once the urgent need was over, and the papers were on the street, all this material had to be set in each of the newspapers using it. Then without it ever having served a single useful purpose the type was again distributed. This make work rule was popularly known as "dead horse". For nothing can be deader than an effort expended to no useful end. This idea that has lived for forty years stems from the fixed belief that if anyone shortens an operation he robs a worker. It is one of the reasons for added cost that benefits no one.

When Arkwright invented his cotton spinning machine in 1769 dire results to labor were prophesied. Doubtless for the time, some workers were inconvenienced by the change for all changes whether good or bad involve certain dislocations. In England of that day there were 7,000 persons engaged in the production of textiles. It was just twenty-seven years later that a full parliamentary inquiry was made in the industry. Just twenty-seven years, remember but the inquiry disclosed the fact that Arkwright's machine, far from robbing the worker of his job, had increased the number of workers employed in the industry from 7,000 to 320,000 or a little better than 4,100 per cent.

DDT WINTER WEAR BEFORE STORING

About this time of year housewives are busy housecleaning. Part of their job entails packing away sweaters, overcoats, underwear and other winter garments. Never is this task undertaken without misgivings that the same clothes, when taken out in the fall, will be punctured with moth holes.

Seldom are these tiny moths seen. If they are, they are very elusive and almost impossible to catch. Contrary to popular belief, adult moths are not directly responsible for the holes since they rarely feed at all. They lay their pinhead sized eggs on fabric with one female capable of laying 10 000 to 150. These hatch into larvae in about five days which immediately begin feeding on wool, feathers and other materials with exceptions of cotton and nylon.

Since all stages of clothes moths are found in wardrobes, effective control can be obtained by spraying all surfaces, corners and cracks before the clothes are put away with a five per cent DDT household spray, the same product used for walls and ceilings to kill flies. DDT is deadly to adult and larval stages of moths if used as specified.

If a high quality five per cent DDT household spray is used there is no danger of it having any objectionable effects on the clothes. If fabrics are infested it is advisable to apply the spray directly then hang them out to air. If not only the interior of the wardrobe need be treated.

Residue left after spraying remains toxic to the insects for several months so that protection is afforded for the entire season.

NEARING THE END.

It is evident now along Parliament Hill that there is a drive to complete the business of the present session by the end of the month but it is also clear the forthcoming legislation will be intensely interesting. Even a quick glance at the measures already on the order paper and others expected to be added to the task indicate in no uncertain way the tremendous job ahead.

The following measures are for consideration of committees of the House: an act to provide for the investigation, conciliation and settlement of industrial disputes; an act to amend the Loan Companies Act; an act to amend the Dominion Elections Act; an act to amend the War Veterans Allowance Act; an act to amend the Veterans Insurance Act; an act to amend the Veterans Rehabilitation Act; an act to amend the Yukon Quartz Mining Act; In addition, other measures will include Bills respecting the C.N.R. financing and guarantee; re-introduction of the Income Tax Act; amendment of the Criminal Code; amendment of the Judges Act, Lord's Day Act, and the Government annuities act, with Bills pertaining to others being scheduled for this session, including the Board of Transport Commissioners, Diplomatic Service Superannuation, tax convention between Canada and France as well as New Zealand etc. On top of all these measures, there are other so-called possible measures that may be brought up before the legislators will conclude their session, such as the legislation that may arise from reports of standing and select committees, with the best-informed information on Parliament will revealing clearly that from time to time measures may be brought forward which are not even known at the present time. Consequently news will be coming from this capital in quick succession now.

A GOOD CROP

One of the Nations top banking figures, Graham Towers, Governor of the Bank of Canada, has left the deep impression along Parliament Hill that a good wheat crop in the West this year may have more profound effect on the economies of the nation than mere banking activities or decisions, judging from his statements to a Committee of the House of Commons. He also told the committee that he thought "that the chances of the United States reverting to price controls at this stage are zero."

CO-OPERATES CLOSELY

The Canadian Government is obviously regarding the Marshall Plan for the Economic Recovery of Europe as extremely important not only in the interests of the prosperity of the rest of the world but quite properly of this nation, with the extreme importance being attached to the activities of this Plan being shown in the fact that Canada's Ambassador to Mexico, Hon. Sydney D. Pierce, has been chosen to proceed to Paris shortly in order to organize the Canadian liaison with the United States European Recovery program offices being opened in France to carry out this great program in Europe.

During the last war, the present Canadian Ambassador to Mexico, Mr. Pierce had a great deal of invaluable experience with the War Production Supply Board in Washington where he is very well known for his accomplishments in supply just as he is recognized on Parliament Hill here as an accomplished expert in such work. This appointment is interpreted here as significant of the great importance being attached by the Canadian government to the whole European Recovery Program as it affects this country.

AMALGAMATION OF SERVICES

When asked if the legislation for the amalgamation of the army, navy and air force acts of Canada has been drafted defence minister Brooke Claxton replied in the House of Commons: "Yes, the legislation is ready but as the Hon member knows it would amount to the amalgamation of some 26 acts, which would run to over 300 sections, and it is felt that it would not be possible to dispose of it at this stage of the session without unduly prolonging the session. We can, we believe get along under the existing legislation until next session."

EFFECT ON PRICES

Testifying before the Special Prices Committee of Parliament, Graham Towers, Governor of the Bank of Canada, conceded that shortages which can be traced to the import restrictions might have an upward effect on prices. He also disclosed that by November, 1947, the Government felt that the decline in foreign exchange reserves had to be arrested or "we'd be in a serious fix."

VACANCIES CAUSE GOSSIP

With 13 seats in the Canadian Senate vacant at present there is considerable gossip backstage in this capital about likely action coming soon to fill them and talk about the "unprecedented" number of such vacancies. However, it must be pointed out that there have been occasions in the past when larger numbers of seats in the Upper House were unoccupied. In fact, Premier King named 14 Senators just prior to the 1940 elections, with Premier Bennett naming 17 Senators just before the 1935 vote.

SAID IN THE CAPITAL.

"Preparing for atomic war is not a matter of dollars but a matter of scientific and industrial effort," said here Dr. C.J. Mackenzie, Chairman Atomic Energy Control Board.

"From the standpoint of the man-in-the street the ordinary people of the country, I think the policy of debt reduction, certainly in times like these, is a right policy," remarked Justice Minister Hiesey in Parliament, talking about the budget.

"And the farming community would be encouraged to produce more foodstuffs, if they were allowed to export their meat and other farm produce to the United States without current export restrictions touching that market," declared G. Russell Boucher, MP, in an inspiring address here.

"Perhaps the greatest advance in the last 10 years is in the increase in early diagnosis," said Dr. G.J. Wherrett, executive secretary, Canadian Tuberculosis Association, reporting in the capital that in 1938 Canadians examined for TB totalled 166,330 but in 1948 this number is expected to reach nearly 2 million.

"Poverty is the great catalyst that drives an exhausted society to Communism," stated Col. David Croft, MP in the House of Commons. "But in this country of Canada if we keep things healthy for the masses of the people, there is nothing to worry about."

WEEKLY WIND-UP

It is believed here that the Board of Transport Commissioners will start on their nation-wide inquiry of freight rates sometime late in July.

An early start on the National Capital Development Plan to make Ottawa into one of the world's most beautiful capitals is expected "shortly" judging from a list given in the House of Commons.

A proposal has been made in Parliament that a separate Minister should be named to deal with mines, forests and scientific services, with a forecast stating the mineral resources of this country could produce more than $1,000,000,000.

Canada's internment policy during World War 2 was recalled at a meeting of the Parliamentary Committee of Human Rights when discussions took place on the United Nations draft International Human Rights Declaration.

Postal employees are grumbling now and the men who deliver the mail want a number of specific changes in the conditions of their

"MONEY MAKES THE MARE GO"
...BUT HORSE SENSE HELPS

As a farmer, you're well aware of the truth of this old proverb... and you know it's not just how much money you have but how wisely you spend it. That's horse sense.

Last year, thousands of Canadian farmers showed they had plenty of it. Under The Farm Improvement Loans Act, they borrowed over $18,000,000 which — with a good proportion of their own money — they used to make their farms better, more profitable farms.

Are you among those taking advantage of this opportunity to get ahead?

If you'd like to modernize your farm and home economically, you'll find, at the B of M, that farm improvement loans can't be bettered for low rates and freedom from other charges.

Ask at your local branch of the B of M for your copy of "Quiz for a Go-Ahead Farmer".

The farmers who borrowed under the Farm Improvement Loans Act last year have better farms, better homes, better lives, as a result. They used the money well... to buy machines and equipment... to construct and repair buildings, including homes... to clear and break new land... to buy foundation and breeding stock... and to make work and life more worthwhile in many other ways.

THIS YEAR, YOU CAN DO IT, TOO.

Lethbridge Experimental Station WEEKLY LETTER

THE FIRST

FALLOW OPERATION

Summer-fallowing time is here again and with it comes the ever serious hazard of soil drifting. Of all the soil drift control measures, trash cover is the most effective. The first stroke on the summer-fallow can be the deciding factor as to whether or not there will be sufficient trash to provide year-round protection.

The blade type cultivator or the one way disc are used extensively for the first stroke on the Dominion Experimental Station and on sub-stations throughout Southern Alberta. The depth of the operation is determined by what implement will be used for the second stroke. If it is planned to use a rod weeder the first operation should be about four inches deep so that the rod weeder will work properly.

When it is planned to follow the blade with a one-way or blade, the depth should be no deeper than required to do good work. This is also true when the one-way precedes the blade or one-way. The second stroke following the blade or one-way should be slightly deeper than the first stroke. Only in exceptional circumstances has the one-way disc been used for more than two operations.

Speed of operation is important in trash cover following. The blade cultivator does its best weed killing at high speeds and it is one of the few implements that does not bury too much trash at high speeds. Using a one-way disc or the duck foot cultivator at speeds over 3½ miles, usually results in much of the trash being buried, with the result that there is much less protection against wind erosion.

Long time records show that there is less wind during June and July than there is in the fall or early spring. In order to have sufficient protection throughout the year, it is essential to maintain a good trash cover that will carry through the fall and spring into the fall and the spring.

VARIETIES OF WHEAT BEING SOWN

A survey made by the Alberta Wheat Pool to find out what varieties of wheat are being sown by the Alberta farmers this year shows that Red Bobs still heads the list with a provincial average of 32.3 %. That figure, however, is a decline of 4% from last year. Thatcher wheat is increasing in popularity having risen to 27.9 this year from 24.4 % last year. Marquis wheat is 3rd at 22.3. This variety is grown mostly in southern Alberta, very little being seeded north of Red Deer.

Garnet wheat is regaining some popularity having risen from 6.1% in the province last year to 7.4% this year. In the area west of the Calgary-Edmonton line, running from Bowden on the south and Sangudo on the north, 75% of the wheat sown is Garnet.

The following table shows the provincial percentage of the different varieties of wheat sown this year and last year.

	1948. % Seeded	1947 % Seeded
Marquis	22.3	24.1
Red Bobs	32.3	36.3
Thatcher	27.9	24.4
Reward	1.0	1.1
Canus	2.7	2.8
Garnet	7.4	6.1
Winter Wheat	2.9	2.7
White Spring	1.1	.7
Other varieties	2.4	1.8

SOFT WATER BETTER FOR RADIATORS

Soft water or rain water is better for tractor radiators than hard water for the time from hard water deposits as a scale on the inside of the radiator tubes causing poor circulation which prevents the water from cooling. This scale will also coat the inside of the block and prevent the transfer of heat from the cylinder to the cooling water resulting in overheating. If it is necessary to use hard water the radiator should be flushed frequently with a good solvent.

My Week

by R. J. Denchman

Last week I mentioned that there were fewer birds. I apologize to the birds. We had two or three cold days, they stopped singing—I missed them. This morning they awakened me at half past four. They were in full song and I thought of what I had said before and was sorry for it. I feel now that they are more numerous than ever. I was happy and went to sleep again with the song of the birds sounding in my ears.

Some time ago I pointed out the very obvious fact that if we produced less we would get less. If we have been working 44 hours a week and decide to have a 40 hour week production will decline, we shall have four hours more of idleness. If the people want to work 40 hours instead of 44 and are content to take less all will be well but if some of us work 40 hours instead of the 44 and take the difference out of our neighbors it won't be cricket, will it?

A few days ago I received a letter from a man in Hamilton, Ontario: "I want to thank you for your articles," he wrote. They are interesting and informative. I'm pretty busy and do not have time to read them as carefully as I might but I get the gist of them just the same. I'm enclosing two articles on the subject which you dealt with lately, the issue of more production."

One is from "The Hamilton Review," and the other is from "Maclean's," an English magazine. The former publication makes this statement: "Good management gets results with the co-operation of other people. Strikes and work-stoppages, lock-outs and walkouts, do not keep production flowing steadily, do not get the most economic product and do not tend to keep men and machines working to produce the best operating results."

The English magazine, after commenting on American aid to Europe gives this statement from the Chancellor of the Exchequer:

"Time is the essence of the problem, we cannot afford to waste a moment of it."

"This is perfectly true," so states this British Editor, "but he might well have added that unless we produce goods in greater volume and with greater efficiency none of these expedients will serve to solve our problems."

So now, as never before in world history people are conscious of the fact that a higher standard of living can come only from an increased volume of production. It's true here as elsewhere.

Last week's issue of "Saturday Night" contained a sketch of T. C. Douglas, Premier of Saskatchewan. It was an interesting story, written by Wallace Hunt. It dealt mainly with the "quibs" of Mr. Douglas, a brilliant man who has made a collection of smart answers to interruptions which may come to a speaker upon a public platform. I doubt if there is any man in Canada who has as large a supply of this particular form of repartee.

Let me give you an example. Some one quizzed him the other day about the high cost of government in Saskatchewan, expenses had moved up from $17 million in 1936 to $52 million, the estimate for 1949. Mr. Douglas promptly replied: "It takes more money to run a boat that is going some place than one that is tied to the dock."

The reply gives no answer to the question. The object of the reply is to draw attention away from the immediate subject under discussion and to embarrass the questioner by avoidance of a direct answer.

Is it effective? Is it the sort of answer you would like to receive if you asked a question? Does it win friends and influence people or what is its particular value?

The people of Saskatchewan now pay $3.00 in taxes for every dollar paid in 1936. There are times when some of us seem anxious to see money spent even if it is wasted but it happens, in the nature of things—there comes a time when people wish they had the money they spent in the days of the boom.

Many strange items cross my desk. People write who have questions to ask, stories to tell and—rarely fault to find. This one came from a well known civil servant, an Irishman who has a happy grin for everybody friend and foe—if he has a foe. I got a laugh out of it.

The difference between a slowdown, a recession and a depression A SLOWDOWN is when you have to tighten your belt; A RECESSION is when you have no belt to tighten; A DEPRESSION is when you don't have any pants to hold up."

INCOME TAX CONDEMNED

"Heavy income tax was a magnificent device for raising money during war-time; but to attempt to retain anything resembling those rates in times of peace when people lack the compelling influence to pay such high taxes is to court disaster," said Prof. J. work, calling upon the Postmaster General Ernest Bertrand here to present their grievances.

A group of officials of the World Association of the Girl Guides and Girl Scouts held a two day meeting in this capital to prepare for a world conference being held in U.S. August 13-23.

Canada will be invaded by a record number of U.S. tourists, officials here say with President Truman's action in raising the amount of duty-free goods that the visitors can bring back home from $100 to $400 bound to induce many of them to spend their holidays here and to "shop around" for bargains in Canadian stores.

Canada's new consular service is expanding, according to the C of this Division of External Affairs here, L.G. Chapce, with his evidence before the External Affairs Committee of the House of Commons suggesting that in time Canadian Consuls will be appointed in various parts of the world.

Estimated Canadian production of newsprint last year was 4,446,789 tons and Canadian consumption totalled 273,485 tons, with exports reaching 84,115,576 cwt. and 1,003,637 cwt. United Kingdom 1,110,109 cwt and Australia 3,231,842 cwt.

CANADIAN GARDEN SERVICE BETTER VARIETIES NOW

The business of improving flowers and vegetables does not stand still. There are strains and types today that were not in existence before the war, and each year there are some brand new varieties. It is a sound rule to try something new each season, both in vegetables and flowers. Even the old standbys like Golden Bantam corn, Rosy Morn Petunias and the dwarf French type peas, to mention only three, have been vastly improved. Plant breeders are constantly striving for new colors, more disease resistance and harder and earlier plants among flowers, more tender and quicker growing vegetables.

SHORT CUTS

The experienced gardener knows many short cuts to hurry growth along. In dry weather he will, if at all possible, soak the garden once a week. Where no hose is available he will have things like lettuce, tomatoes and beans close to the house or pump so that they can be watered with the minimum of inconvenience. He also knows that weeds are moisture robbers and these he will keep removed so that the vegetables want ed get all the moisture that nature provides. A weekly cultivation equals a shower because it tends to conserve moisture and a small dose of commercial fertilizer is equivalent to another.

FOR A DAZZLING SHOW

A really dazzling show of bloom can be made with a few annual flowers sown or planted even at this late date, and it won't mean much work. Cosmos, giant marigolds, zinnias, petunias, portulaca, nicotina, Alyssum, asters, stocks, spider plants are all easily grown almost everywhere in Canada. Some of the larger flowers like cosmos, marigolds and nicotina can actually be used in place of shrubs. At this date of course, one should use started plants which will bloom in a few weeks. These can be secured from any greenhouse. Preference should be given to well branched plants of good deep color. For husky growth the bigger types like gladiolus, dahlias, giant marigolds and zinnias should have about two feet each way. Petunias, nasturtiums, medium marigolds need about a foot or two apart for best results — smaller things like Alyssum require six inches each way.
